PROFESSIONAL SUCCESS COACHING PROGRAM

When you joined the workplace, you felt energetic and had a high-level of motivation. You worked hard and you were ready to take any business challenges.

Now you feel that you are gradually losing your energy and motivation. You see, you hear, and you feel negativity around you. However, you still wish to hear compliments from your boss; "you are a productive person!" You are confused. Especially during this pandemic, you are struggling to regain control of the situation as you wish.

In fact, your productivity is one of the direct justifications to secure your job. If you fail to show that you are really worth for what is paid for you, the probability of securing your profession will become challenging.

Because business leaders are looking for people have the resilience and are able to survive and grow during unprecedented challenging situations. In fact, pandemic situation is a natural platform for some people to project themselves as "extra-ordinary".

Below questions may help you to assess your current status and guide you to find a way out.

- How to maintain and maximize your professional productivity?
- How to drive your workplace, instead of it drives you?
- How to prove that you are not an ordinary?

Our Professional Success Coaching Program consists of five exclusive coaching sessions to transform your professional orientation to become extra-ordinary. The sessions include:

- Assessing the professional steadiness through structured brainstorming to examine the areas need improvement.
- Setting strategic and meaningful Goals, that will become the criteria for future progress.
- Exploring priorities and possibilities through time-shifted questioning process.
- Programming subconscious mind to align to the values, mission and vision of the organization.
- Assessing the growth readiness to identify the development requirements & priorities.
